

Over the Years: Professional Burnout vs. Deepening Meaning

written by Guest Author | January 18, 2016

After two or more decades of doing therapy, every seasoned therapist knows that she or he has evolved from the early professional right after licensure. With more years of experience come better understandings, more decisive interventions, and often better results. We develop more pride in the work we do.