

Let's Get 'Technical' With Your Protection

written by CPH Insurance | June 16, 2016

In January 2013, CPH Insurance announced more than 25 new occupations that are eligible for professional liability insurance coverage. Today, we'd like to highlight all our "techies" that we provide protection for:

- Bio-Med Tech
- Behavior Technician
- Blood Bank Tech
- Cardiology Tech
- Clinical Lab Tech
- Community Health Tech
- Dialysis Tech
- EKG/EEG Tech
- Histology Tech
- Lab Tech
- Med. Tech Assistant
- Medical Record Tech
- Mental Health Technician
- Nuclear Med Tech
- Radiological Tech

In late 2012, Fresenius Medical Care came under scrutiny for putting patients at risk for heart attacks and death from GranuFlo and NaturaLyte, drugs used during their kidney dialysis treatments. Collectively the facility has been accused of over 900 careless deaths. In this particular case, Fresenius is both the facilitator of the treatment AND the manufacturer of the drug, making this a seemingly slam dunk case for attorneys. However, had Fresenius only been the manufacturer, claims attorneys could have had a compelling case that shoddy dialysis technician work was to blame. Had this situation arose, technicians would not have been provided coverage from the medical center and left on their own to battle potentially hefty fines and irreparable career damage.

If you're an active technician, or looking to get into the field, it is essential you're covered with professional liability insurance to protect your career! CPH Insurance strives to simplify every step of the process from application to filing for claims if the situation arises. We also offer a suite of additional benefits to give you around the clock support!
