

Confidentiality

written by Richard Leslie | May 24, 2016

What is the right of an individual participant in group therapy to confidentiality? Should (or must) practitioners ask group participants to sign a form where they each promise to keep as confidential the content of group member communications?