

Testifying In Court Or At A Deposition

written by Richard Leslie | May 24, 2016

A therapist or counselor must be prepared to testify in court or at a deposition, under oath. Although some therapists and counselors may not like to testify, and may find it disruptive to their practices, there is sometimes no choice.