Think About This – Child Abuse?

written by Richard Leslie | May 24, 2016

Avoiding Liability Bulletin – February 2008

…A parent smokes marijuana (one time) in front of her 17 year-old daughter and tells her therapist about this. Is a child abuse report required? Is a child abuse report permitted?

…A parent snorts a line of cocaine (one time) in front of her 17 year-old daughter and tells her therapist about this. Is a child abuse report required? Is a child abuse report permitted?

…What if the child in the questions above is an 11 year-old daughter? Do any of your answers change? Stay tuned!

If you would like to offer your views on the answers to these questions, please feel free to send your email comments to CPH Insurance at info@cphins.com. CPH Insurance will forward your emails to me and I will report (in a future Avoiding Liability Bulletin – in March or April 2008) on the nature and extent of the responses and viewpoints expressed. Be sure to let me know what state you are talking about!
